DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1,2,5-9,31,34 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2, 7-13, 23,25 of U.S. Patent No. 6,728,244.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-2, 12-13 of patent 6,728,244 essentially teach the same steps/means as claims 1-2 of current application. Even though claims 1-2 of current application are broadened by omitting certain limitations such as the packet transmission control unit and the node processing determining unit and the packet information memory unit from claim 12, it has been held that the omission of an element and its function is an obvious expedient if the remaining elements perform the same function as before. In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 184 (CCPA). Also note Ex parte Rainu, 168 USPQ 375 (Bd. App. 1969); omission of a reference element whose function is not needed would be an obvious variation.

Claims 5-9 of current application are rejected based on the same rationale given for the rejection of independent claim 1 of current application.

Claim 23 of patent 6,728,244 essentially teaches the same steps/means as claim 31 of current application. Even though claim 31 is broadened by omitting certain limitations such as the fourth, fifth and sixth computer readable medium and their functions, it has been held that the omission of an element and its function is an obvious expedient if the remaining elements perform the same function as before. In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 184(CCPA). Also note Ex parte Rainu, 168 USPQ 375 (Bd. App. 1969); omission of a reference element whose function is not needed would be an obvious variation.

Claim 34 of patent 6,728,244 essentially teaches the same steps/means as claim 25 of current application. Even though claim 25 is broadened by omitting certain limitations such as storing an information on each second packet transmitted from the communication node in a packet information memory, serializing transmission of a plurality of second packets to the second network by referring to packet information memory such that after one second packet is transmitted to second network a next second packet is not transmitted to second network until a response packet corresponding to second packet is received from second network, and determining a processing to be executed by communication node as either a first processing using a combination of packet correspondence memory and the identifying step or a second processing using a combination of packet information memory and the serializing steps according to type of first packet, it has been held that the omission of an element and its function is an obvious expedient if the remaining elements perform the same function as before. Karlson, 136 USPQ 184(CCPA). Also note Ex parte Rainu, 168 USPQ 375 (Bd. App. 1969); omission of a reference element whose function is not needed would be an obvious variation.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 3-4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
